

September 23, 2016

Dear Yuan,

On behalf of Google's Open Source Programs Office, I would like to thank you for your contribution to TensorFlow.

We are honored to present you with a "Google Open Source Peer Bonus." Inside the company, engineers can give a similar bonus to each other to signify work well done, so this is just a small way we say thank you for your work and contributions to the open source software community.

We hope you enjoy this gift as a small thank you from all of us at Google and Martin Wicke who nominated you.

So thank you again for all of your hard work! We look forward to your continued contribution.

Best regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Chris DiBona". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

Chris DiBona
Director of Open Source and Science Outreach, Google